Proposed Campaign / Spec Work — Portfolio Case Study

Prepared by Yara Ayman — Digital Marketing Strategist

Note: brand fields not fully specified in the brief were completed with realistic assumptions for a multi-category Egyptian e-commerce brand. Ad benchmarks are illustrative, modeled on typical Meta Ads Manager ranges for Egypt.

Where the Egyptian E-Commerce Market Stands

Fast-Growing Sector

Rising smartphone penetration, mobile wallets, and a young population comfortable buying fashion & home goods online.

Payments Shifting

COD still dominates, but Fawry, InstaPay & Valu are growing fast among 20–35 year-olds — shaping checkout UX and ad messaging.

Video-First Discovery

Reels & TikTok have overtaken static posts as the main discovery channel; brands under-investing in video lose share of voice.

Brand Status & Competitive Landscape

CURRENT DIGITAL STATUS

42,000	Instagram followers
65,000	Facebook followers
18,000	TikTok followers

Strengths: Multi-platform base, recognizable Arabic name, COD trust.

Weaknesses: Low video output, inconsistent cadence, no retargeting funnel.

COMPETITOR POSITIONING

Competitor	Positioning	Weakness to Exploit
Jumia Egypt	Everything marketplace; price & speed leader	Impersonal, generic ads, low warmth
Zoodmall	Discount-driven, heavy paid promotion	Weak organic community
Boutique IG shops	High curation, personal DM service	Can't scale delivery/trust like Noon

Assumption note: follower counts and catalog description were not supplied in the brief and were estimated for this proposal.

Strategic Position

STRENGTHS

- Existing follower base across 3 platforms
- Arabic-first brand name, strong local recall
- COD builds trust with cautious first-time buyers

WEAKNESSES

- Inconsistent posting, no content system
- Weak short-form video presence
- No retargeting funnel in use today

OPPORTUNITIES

- Reels/TikTok discovery underused by rivals
- UGC & creator partnerships are inexpensive now
- Ramadan/Eid & back-to-school demand ahead

THREATS

- Large marketplaces dominate price perception
- Rising CPMs on Meta ads in Egypt
- Industry-wide delivery-delay trust issues

CASE STUDY SUMMARY

A 30-day full-funnel social media and Meta Ads strategy proposed for Noon, an Egyptian e-commerce brand, designed to grow paid-social sales from near-zero to 350+ monthly orders on a 5,000 EGP budget. The plan restructures content around five clear pillars, prioritizes short-form video, and layers a three-stage Meta Ads funnel — Awareness, Consideration, Conversion — with retargeting. Built as a spec project to demonstrate end-to-end campaign strategy, from situation analysis to measurable KPIs.
