

PROPOSED CAMPAIGN / SPEC WORK — PORTFOLIO CASE STUDY

30-Day App Growth & Performance Campaign

Egypt HealthTech & Digital Pharmacy · Full-Funnel Acquisition Strategy · 6,500 EGP Simulated Budget

Prepared by Yara Ayman — Digital Marketing Strategist

Where Egypt's HealthTech Market Stands

Three converging forces are reshaping how Egyptians access medicines, skincare, and chronic care.

Fast-Growing HealthTech

Consumers are shifting from offline pharmacy visits to on-demand ordering for OTC meds, supplements, and skincare.

Insurance Sync as a Moat

Direct paperless insurance claim approval and prescription upload outpace physical retail chains.

Video-First Discovery

"Derm-Tok" ingredient breakdowns and doctor advice drive organic trust for ages 20–35.

Competitor Positioning & Market Gap

Yodawy's insurance-first, video-native model fills gaps competitors leave open.

Competitor	Core Model	Key Weakness
Vezeeta Pharmacy	Integrated clinic booking + medicine delivery	Perceived as appointment-first; pharmacy feels secondary
Chefaa	Chronic refills subscription focus	Slower short-form video presence, limited TikTok community
Retail Chains (El-Ezaby / Seif)	High street trust & WhatsApp ordering	Manual chat friction, order delays, no instant insurance sync

SWOT Analysis

Yodawy holds structural advantages in insurance integration and cold-chain logistics. The primary gap is converting installs into first orders — a challenge this campaign directly targets.

Realistic 30-Day Targets

Three measurable goals tied to funnel stages, modeled against a 6,500 EGP simulated budget.

80–120

First Orders

CPA ~25–32 EGP via retargeting and promo codes

500–650

Qualified Installs

>40% registration rate, CPI ~4.5 EGP

3.0%+

Engagement Rate

Up from 1.4% via educational skincare Reels and user unboxings

Who We Are Talking To
